thyssenkrupp Industrial Solutions (India) Private Limited

Project Director – Coke Oven

Qualification : Engineering Degree or higher (preferably Mechanical/ Metallurgical) + valid PMP certification (preferred)

Experience : Minimum 25 years' experience in steel / allied industry or steel plant consultancy with substantial experience in leadership positions in project management or as Unit/BU Head.

Work Location : Mumbai / Pune

Requirements & Responsibilities

- Lead project Management positions in at least 2 large Projects comprising Coke Plant Facilities (Material Handling/coke oven batteries / By-Product Plant) in steel sector.
- Expertise in project Management and control, contracting and risk management.

Job Profile:

- Project Head for large Coke Project consisting of Coke Oven Batteries, Machines, by-product plant, Material Handling and associated facilities.

Functional Role:

- Overall Responsibility of Project Management & Execution and ensuring project profitability as per project charter.
- Responsible to develop project execution concept & strategy, overall resource planning and management during entire project cycle.
- Stakeholder Management. Serves as the link between key project stakeholders and organisation top management.
- Guides Project Team in identifying risks & constraints, helps in preparing action plans to address issues affecting project progress and guides in implementing corrective actions/course correction during the project.
- Overall Responsibility for Project HSE, cost, quality, schedule.

Competencies:

- Team management & networking skills
- Customer focus and stakeholder management
- Decision making and risk taking ability
- High integrity and ethics
- Communication, influencing and presentation skills
- Innovative approach to problem solving and managing change